RINGGOLD HIGH SCHOOL

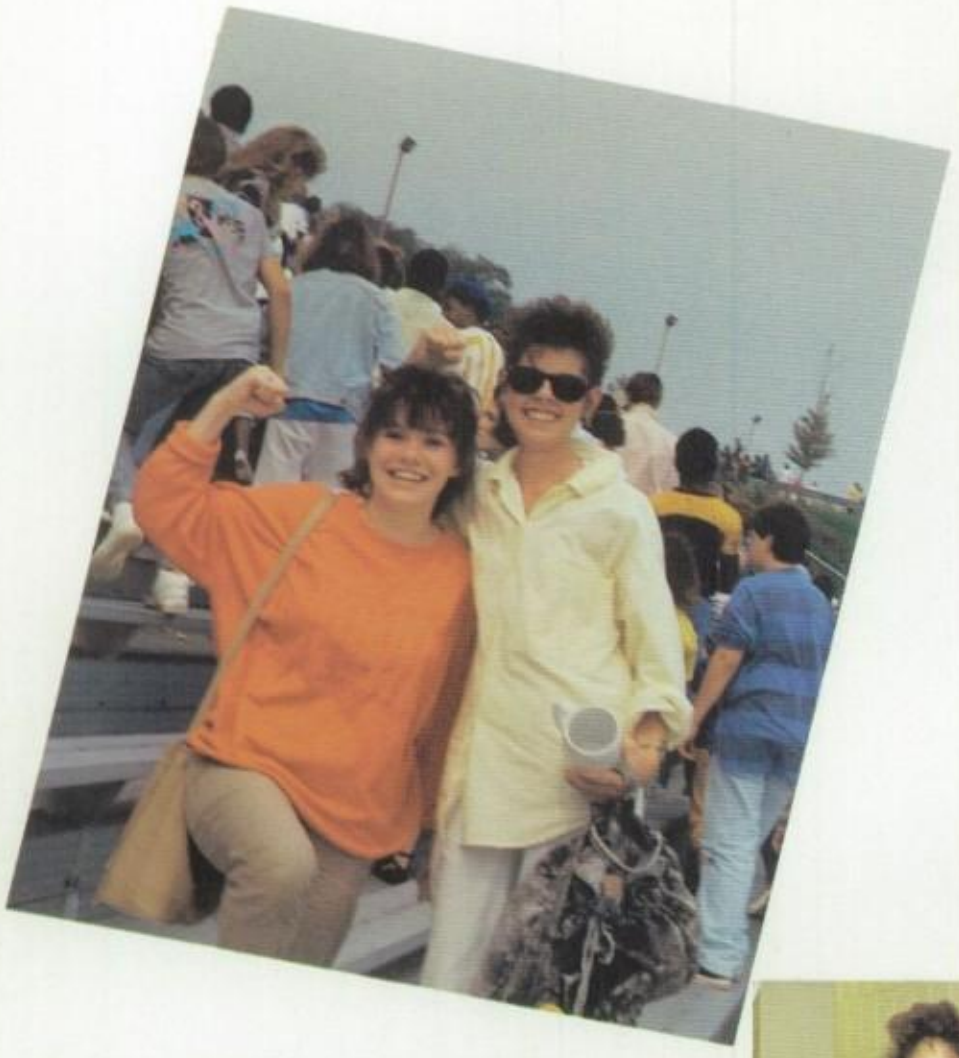
ADVISORS: MRS. DORIS-BASS WADE

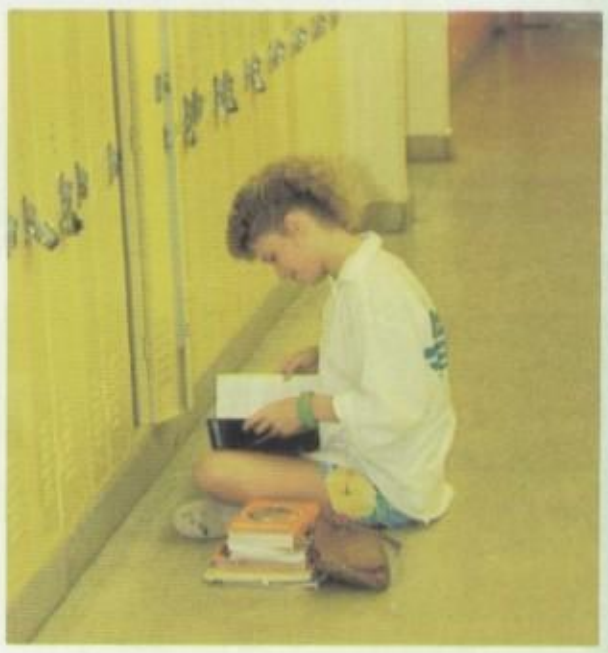
MR. GERALD PERGOLA



Shaky legs? Trifling nerves? Well, it sounds as if you had become a victim of the first day of school. It's an ailment each of us must go through every year. Those of you who are sophomores and juniors have had it somewhat easier; no major transactions for you. However, the freshmen and seniors were the ones most affected by this problem. It is understandable for one to say freshmen being affected, but one may ask seniors? Yes, seniors. We, as seniors, have one final year to "Put it all together" and make things work right. It is also a year to make critical decisions on plans way in advance, and the first day of school was no exception. For us, it wasn't "179 days left" but our last-first day of high school, an experience we would never go through again. Maybe we did have a couple advantages over the freshmen class, such as knowing our way around the building and how to ease into a classroom without the sweat trickling from our brow. These, among other things, are just a few tricks of the trade, which one comes to know by his or her senior year.

Mrs. Garry's social science class smiles pretty for camera.

Could these three be auditioning for an Ultra-Brite commercial.



A resourceful student takes advantage of the hall to study.

John Vaccari and Lee Johnson, two Ram football players, enjoy the pep rally before the E.F. football game.

Mr. Hanna tries not to say the dreaded word — "ain't."

Are you girls trying to hide something?

What are these mad chemists going to destroy next?

Now, freshmen, well . . . their story is a little different but can be compared to a senior. Let's take a look at school from a typical freshmen's point of view. For one thing, his morning probably started earlier than the days of "middle school;" getting up anywhere from a half an hour to an hour earlier showed determination and effort. Next, he would have to adapt to a new school, new teachers, more students, more studies, and less free time, but the major adaption being — NO windows. Not knowing if a total eclipse is taking place or even a soul-warming sunny afternoon can be frustrating. Another change the freshmen had to cope with was the outrageous number of bells being rung throughout the day. Knowing that there was a maximum of seven classes, but 12 periods a day, still has some of the seniors tripped up. But, having the privilege of going to his locker after each class was a true advantage to all.

We hope these memories brought back some chuckles knowing that you, the freshmen class, made it through your first day of school.

EDITORS' STATEMENT

Change would best summarize the Ringgold School District! RHS has begun the 1987-88 school year with a new principal, new courses, a new influx of exchange students — students moving within the district and an increase in enrollment. It's not surprising that students began to divide in cliques and began to hang around with their own friends. Even faculty members, to some extent, move about in their own circle of friends.

The 1987-88 Aries staff has decided that someone must bring all parties together! We're All In This Together. Faculty, administration, and students, must learn to work together, to respect each other, and to move out of their own sphere of friends and get to truly know RHS — the people. RHS spirit, unity, friendship is what the Aries staff will promote with this year's yearbook. For example, the senior section entitled We've Been Through It All expresses the fact that as seniors we have done everything needed to graduate but still have more goals to complete.

Brandon Pelissero kicks back and enjoys the day's newspaper while in the library.

Striving For It All titles the underclassmen section, for they know that there is still a great amount of work to be done. With the great sports teams produced this year, Winning It All seemed only appropriate.

I'm sure the faculty members have "chalked up" some award-winning memories of this past year and for their encouragement, throughout everything they are the ones who Teach It All. Without the support of the Administration, we could never have called it a year, for they are the ones who Guide It All.

Speaking of support, this yearbook would not be possible without the financing methods from our sponsors, who Invest In It All.

Yes, we here at Ringgold High School have changed, for the better and intend to stay that way throughout the coming years! We are All In This Together!

What a group!!

On September 21-25 RHS students participated in what was to be the best ever "spirit week." On various days certain styles of clothes were worn by the student body; these clothing styles were chosen by the members of the Student Government. For instance, Monday, students dug out their shades, and cleaned the sand from their sandals to dress for Beach Day '87. While on Tuesday, the high school became a college campus, for Tuesday was College T-shirt Day. Everyone on Wednesday was "Rockin' Around the Clock," but not to Bill Hailey and the Comets but to 50's Day.

The thrill of being cool, turned to the monotony of peace and serenity on Thursday, for Tie Dye Day. Most of the clothing was hand-made but with true spirit to themselves, and the school. Alas, the weekend, Friday the 25th ended the exotic week of styles with solid colors of Blue and Gold to help motivate the football team to a win against Trinity. We would like to think that such great enthusiasm displayed by the student body and faculty members caused a fiery win over Trinity that same evening.

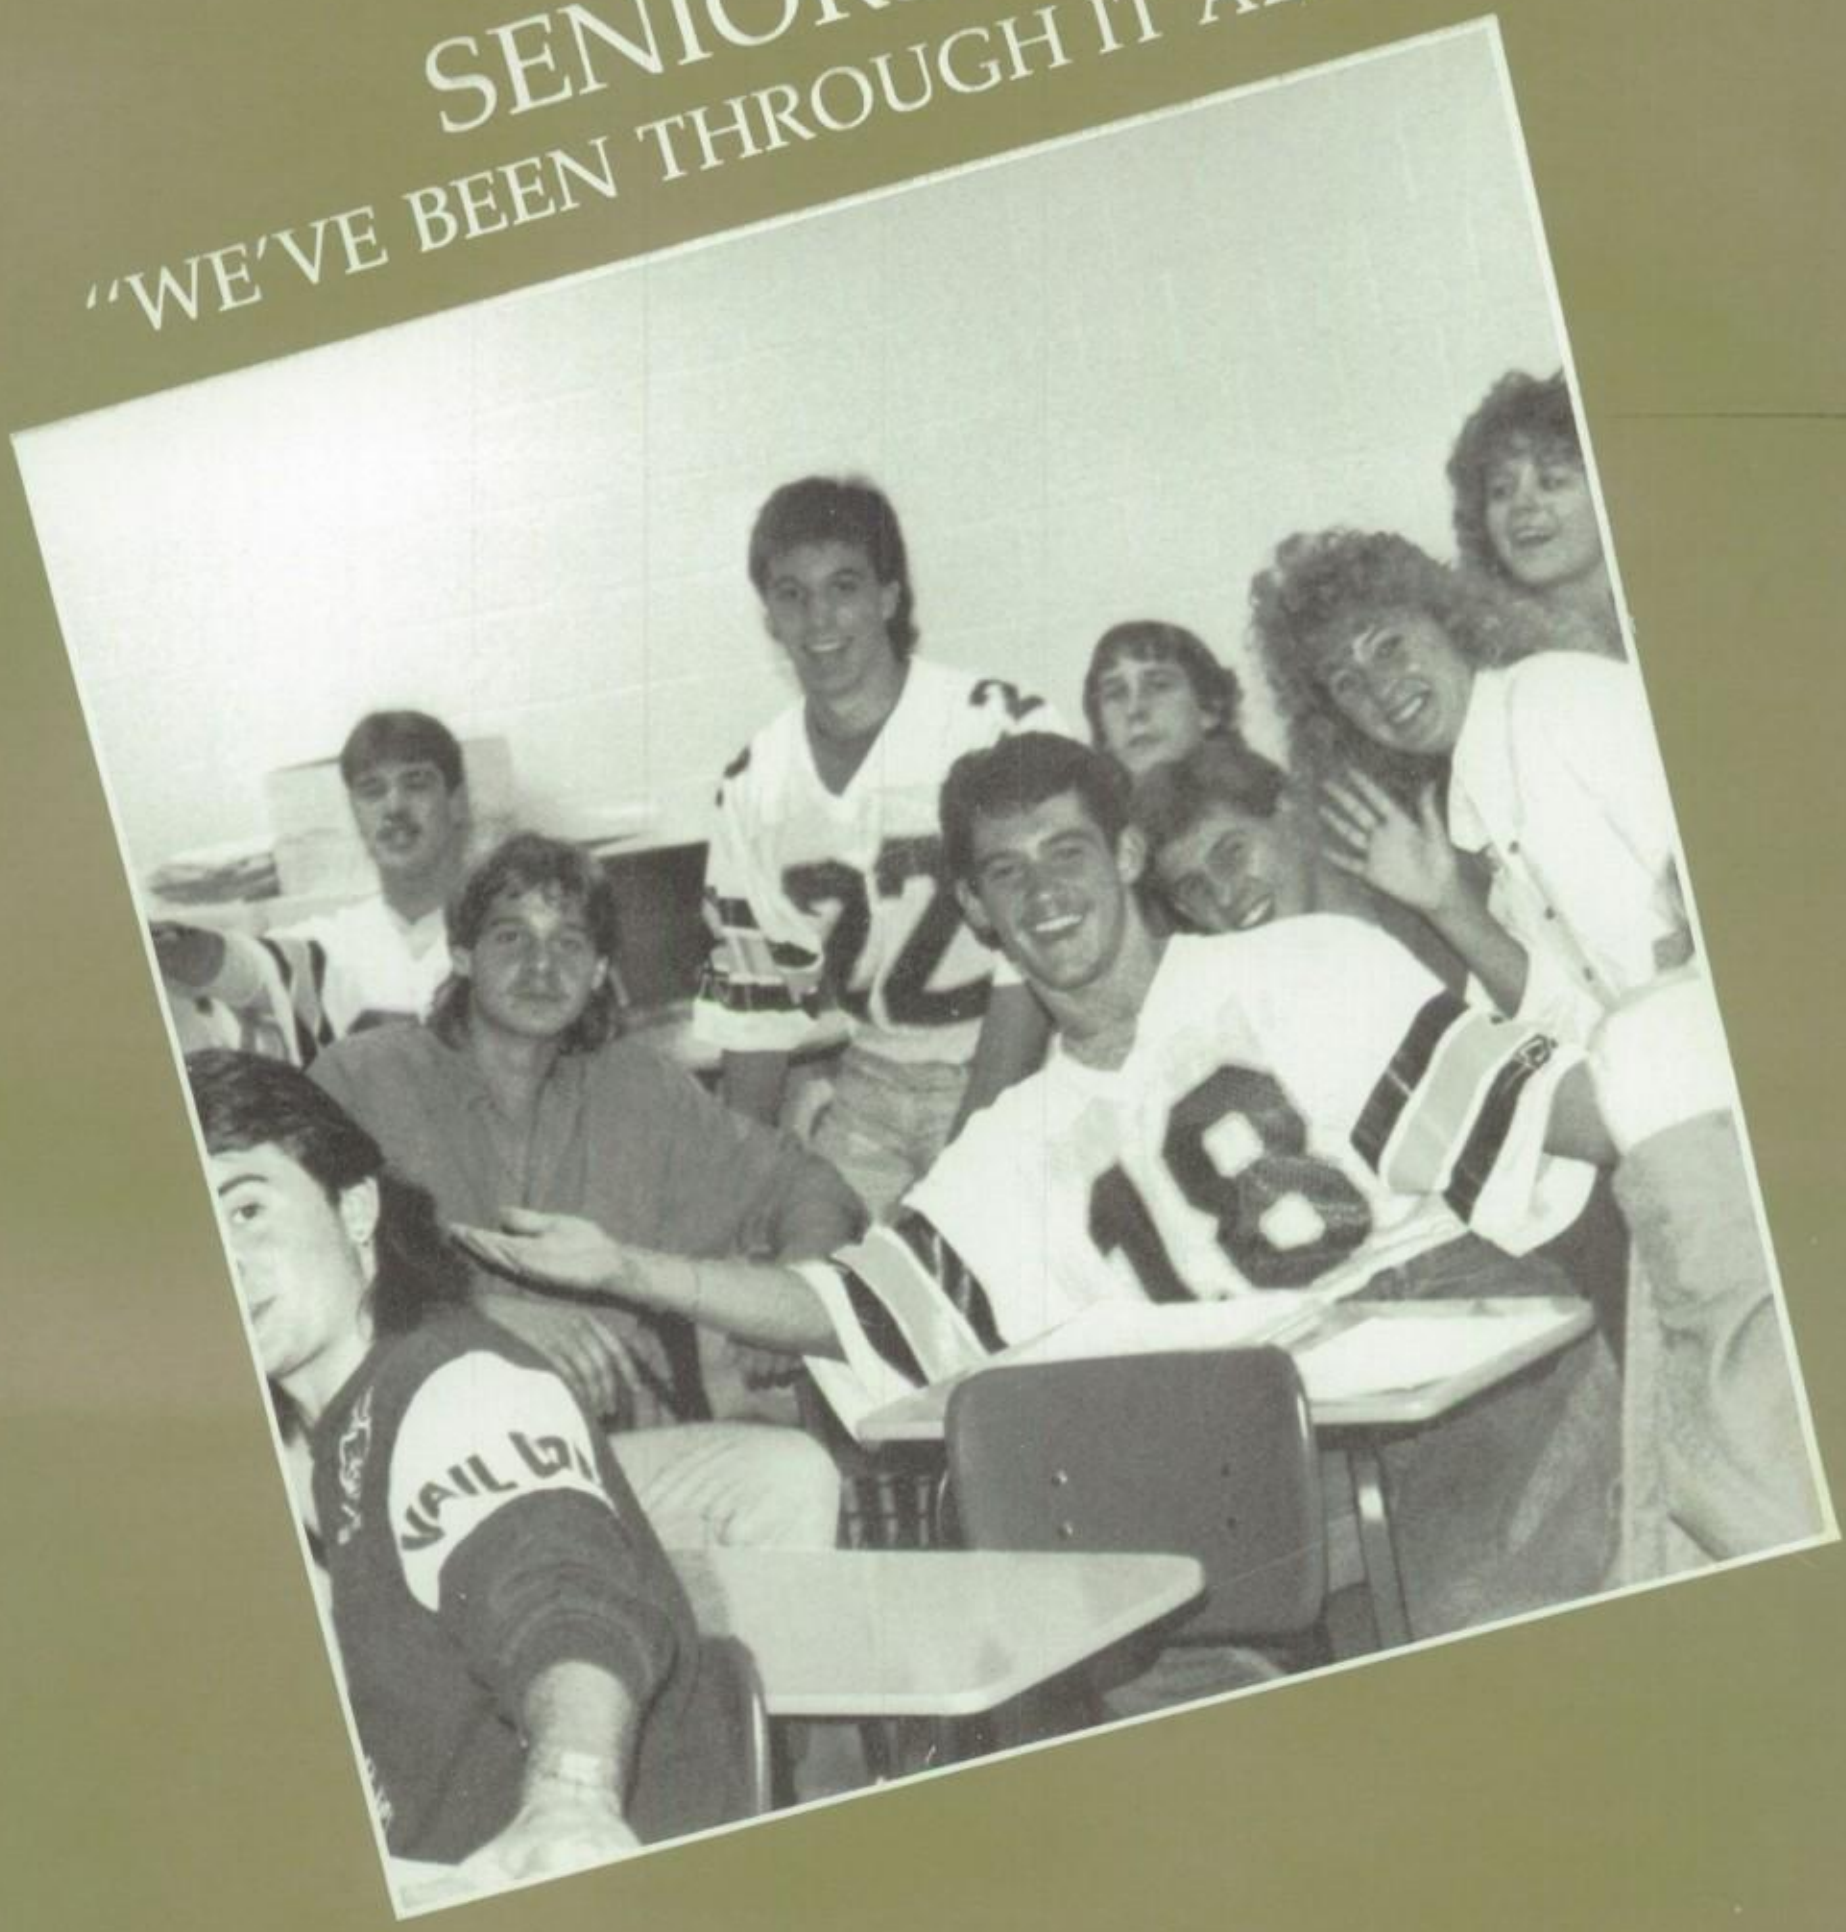
SENIORS:
"WE'VE BEEN THROUGH IT ALL"



Having been through it all, we seniors have had a lot of good times at Ringgold High School, as well as some bad ones. Some of those winning football games are surely unforgettable. What about all of the friends you made and some of those helpful teachers you may never forget? You are finally done with studying for SAT's and staying after school because you were late for class. Together, we have accomplished even the most challenging situations. Now it is time for us to graduate, together, as the final step of our high school years. Our senior staff has tried to make this section the best ever because we think it will be the most memorable to you even in the years to come.

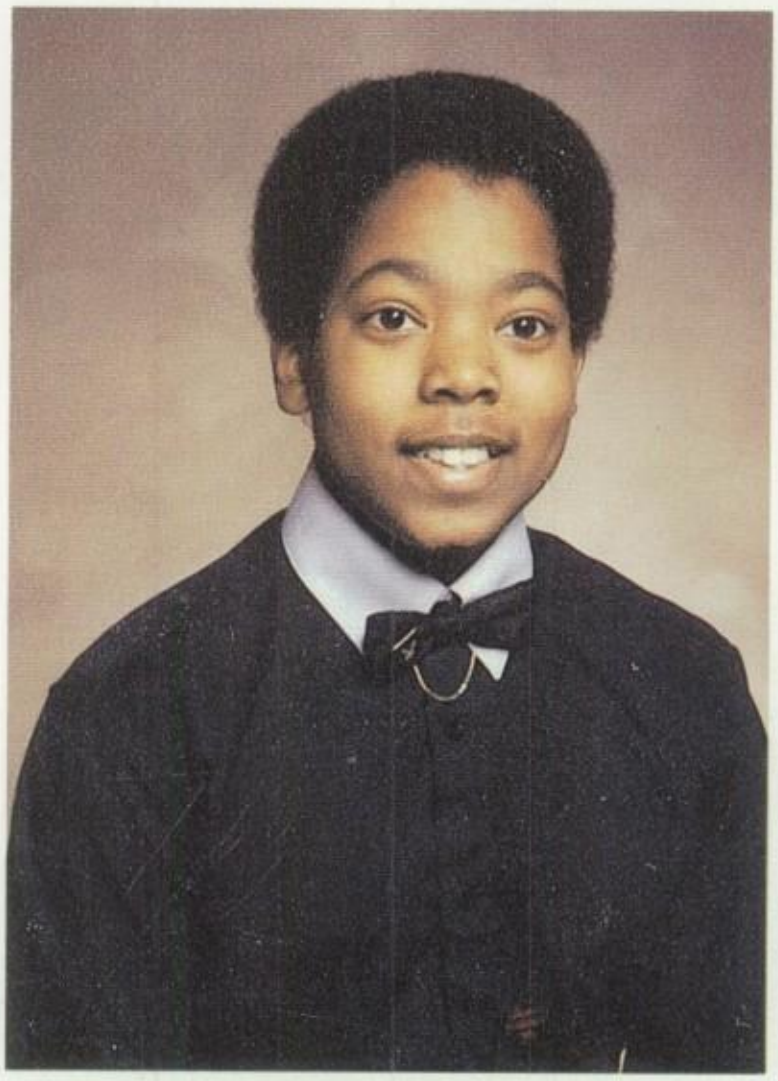
In Memory Of Keith Rhone



This page is dedicated to Keith Rhone, a young man who would have graduated with the class of 1988. We send our hearts and warmth to his family and friends, for he will be in our thoughts and spirits forever.

They say there is a place called Heaven,
located between the clouds,
A place filled with peace — where serenity surrounds.
They say there's a place called Heaven and that we will all go
there someday,
A place where we will meet our maker and come to know His ways.
The earth is not like Heaven,
It's too cruel to say exactly what it is,
For if things were the same on earth as in Heaven we would all be here to stay.
So look forward to the afterlife, look forward to it my friend.
Where we will all stand together praying hand-in-hand.
Do not cry over the deaths of love ones,
They are up above our heads,
Smiling and re-assuring our souls that they are alive again!
I believe there's a place called Heaven,
That I always did, and Keith is among the ones who is enjoying the freedom again.

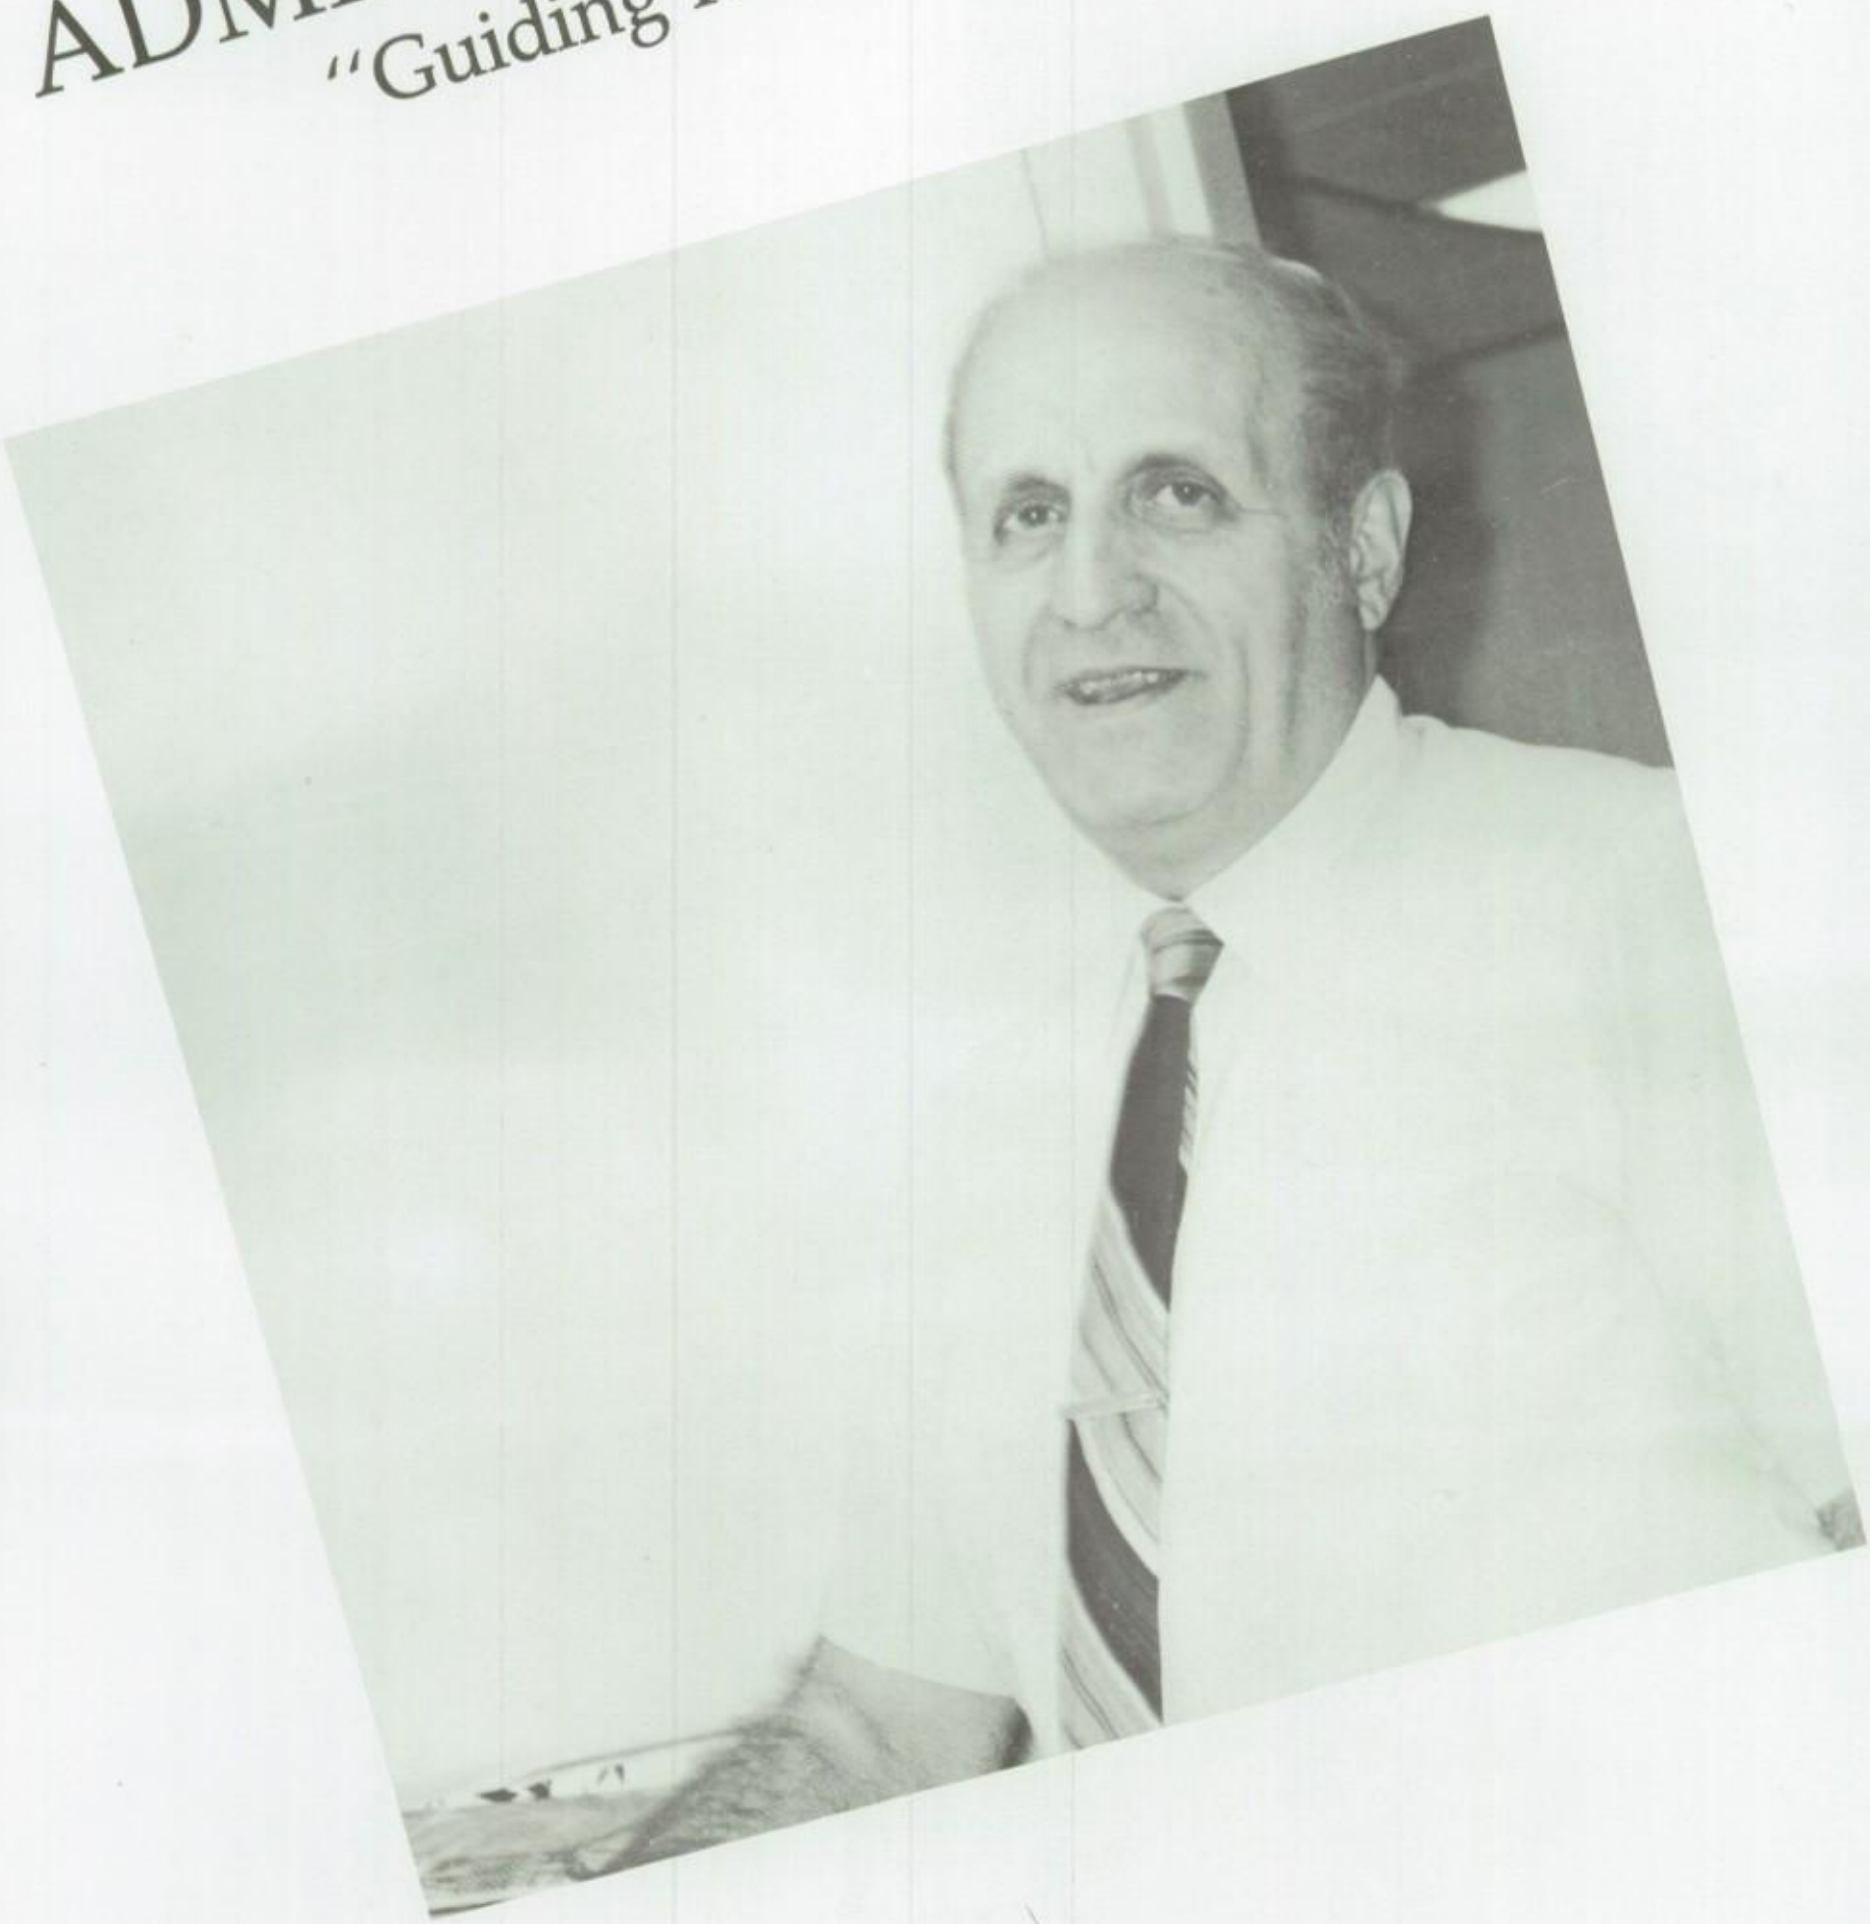
ADMINISTRATION:
"Guiding It All"



Throughout the years the Administration of Ringgold School District has been "Guiding It All." Each Administrator perseveres to insure fairness for every person within Ringgold. Each division of Ringgold School District, and every student and faculty member in those divisions is affected by the Administration. The Administrator's guidance and commitment make Ringgold function as a singular organization. With the combining forces of students, faculty, and administrators, Ringgold becomes a much better place in which to learn and grow. This enforces the theme that "We're All in this Together."

Mr. Gary J. Hamilton
Principal
Ringgold High School

Our challenges in life are many and varied and at times appear insurmountable. It is at these times when we count on others and realize we're all in it together.

As you face a new set of challenges, you will draw on the knowledge gained through your four years at Ringgold High School. The skills imparted to you through our efforts will help you meet these challenges. Your experiences will be a source of guidance; your spirit a source of motivation, and your camaraderie a source of comfort.

I have gained great satisfaction leading you to your new horizon. I wish you success in meeting your future challenges.

Mr. Gary J. Hamilton
Principal
Ringgold High School

Dr. Keith D. McMonagle
Assistant Principal

A successful school is one that is established for the purpose of transmitting ideals, values, customs, and knowledge that serve as the basis of its culture and existence. As administrators, we have the privilege of coordinating and synchronizing all of the essential elements that comprise a successful school. We have the enviable task of supervising the various components that make Ringgold High School a leader in the educational field. Central to all of these is the responsibility for making the school become an optimum learning environment for facilitating and enhancing the cognitive, social, affective, and aesthetic development of the students who attend our school.

We employ our knowledge in evaluating and structuring curricular programs for the students. Our additional task is to ensure that the rules and procedures are fair and carried out in an equitable fashion by all and for all.

Education has many formal plateaus, one of them surely being the completion of high school. To this end, each student strives with very little awareness — many times of the multitude of human energies needed to orchestrate this final plateau. I have always considered it a privilege to play such a vital role in the end product, but have never lost sight of the diversity of influences necessary in achieving the end product.

To every graduating class there surely is a certain feeling of parting that exists because of the fond recollections and associations. Also to a graduating class there is a feeling of fulfillment and satisfaction that we adminstrators so proudly boast because of our part in "guiding" your preparation for a hopefully rewarding future.

To you, the class of 1988, I extend my congratulations and best wishes. It is my sincere hope that you will continue climbing your ladder of success and always reminisce about fond memories of Ringgold High School.

Nothing better illustrates the concepts of "We're All In This Together" than the success of our teams in athletics and scholastic competition. Teamwork has been the key of our championship performances. Winning teams demonstrate synergy; i.e., the total production of a group of people working in concert is greater than their total individual production. Teamwork breeds enthusiasm, dedication, feelings of belonging, and commitment to others. The Ringgold School District, through its academic and extra-curricular programs, attempts to balance individualism and self-reliance with cooperation and teamwork. John Donne, the English poet, wrote: "No man is an island alone to himself." In other words, "We're All In This Together."

Dr. James A. Lopresti
Superintendent
Ringgold School District

Education is a cooperative venture. Research studies conclude that the most effective learning takes place in an environment in which students receive support and encouragement from teachers, administrators, parents, and the community. Through both formal and informal processes, the school, home, and community set levels of expectation for students. A student's academic maturation and deportment in school are the result of these complex interactions. The Ringgold School District has always set high, but realistic, educational and behavioral goals for its 4,000 students. This has been made possible by the strong support demonstrated by the Board of School Directors, faculty, parents, and residents of the seven component municipalities. The educational opportunities provided in this kind of educational environment are extensive. We hope that our students avail themselves of these opportunities for scholastic, social, and physical development. It is evident that in Ringgold "We're All In This Together."

STUDENT ASSISTANCE CORE TEAM

FACULTY:

"Teaching It All"

This year's faculty section is entitled "Teaching it All." This theme was chosen because it accurately describes the faculty's ability to teach many different subjects and still keep unity within (Ringgold). The faculty does "Teach it All" — from the many different courses at school, to different lessons of life — which will help us throughout our lives. We need the faculty to help teach us to get along with one another so that we can realize "We're All in This Together."

For this section, we have questioned the teachers, "Why did you choose education as a career?" We hope that their answers, along with the information collected on each faculty member, will provide a better view of our (R.H.S.) staff.

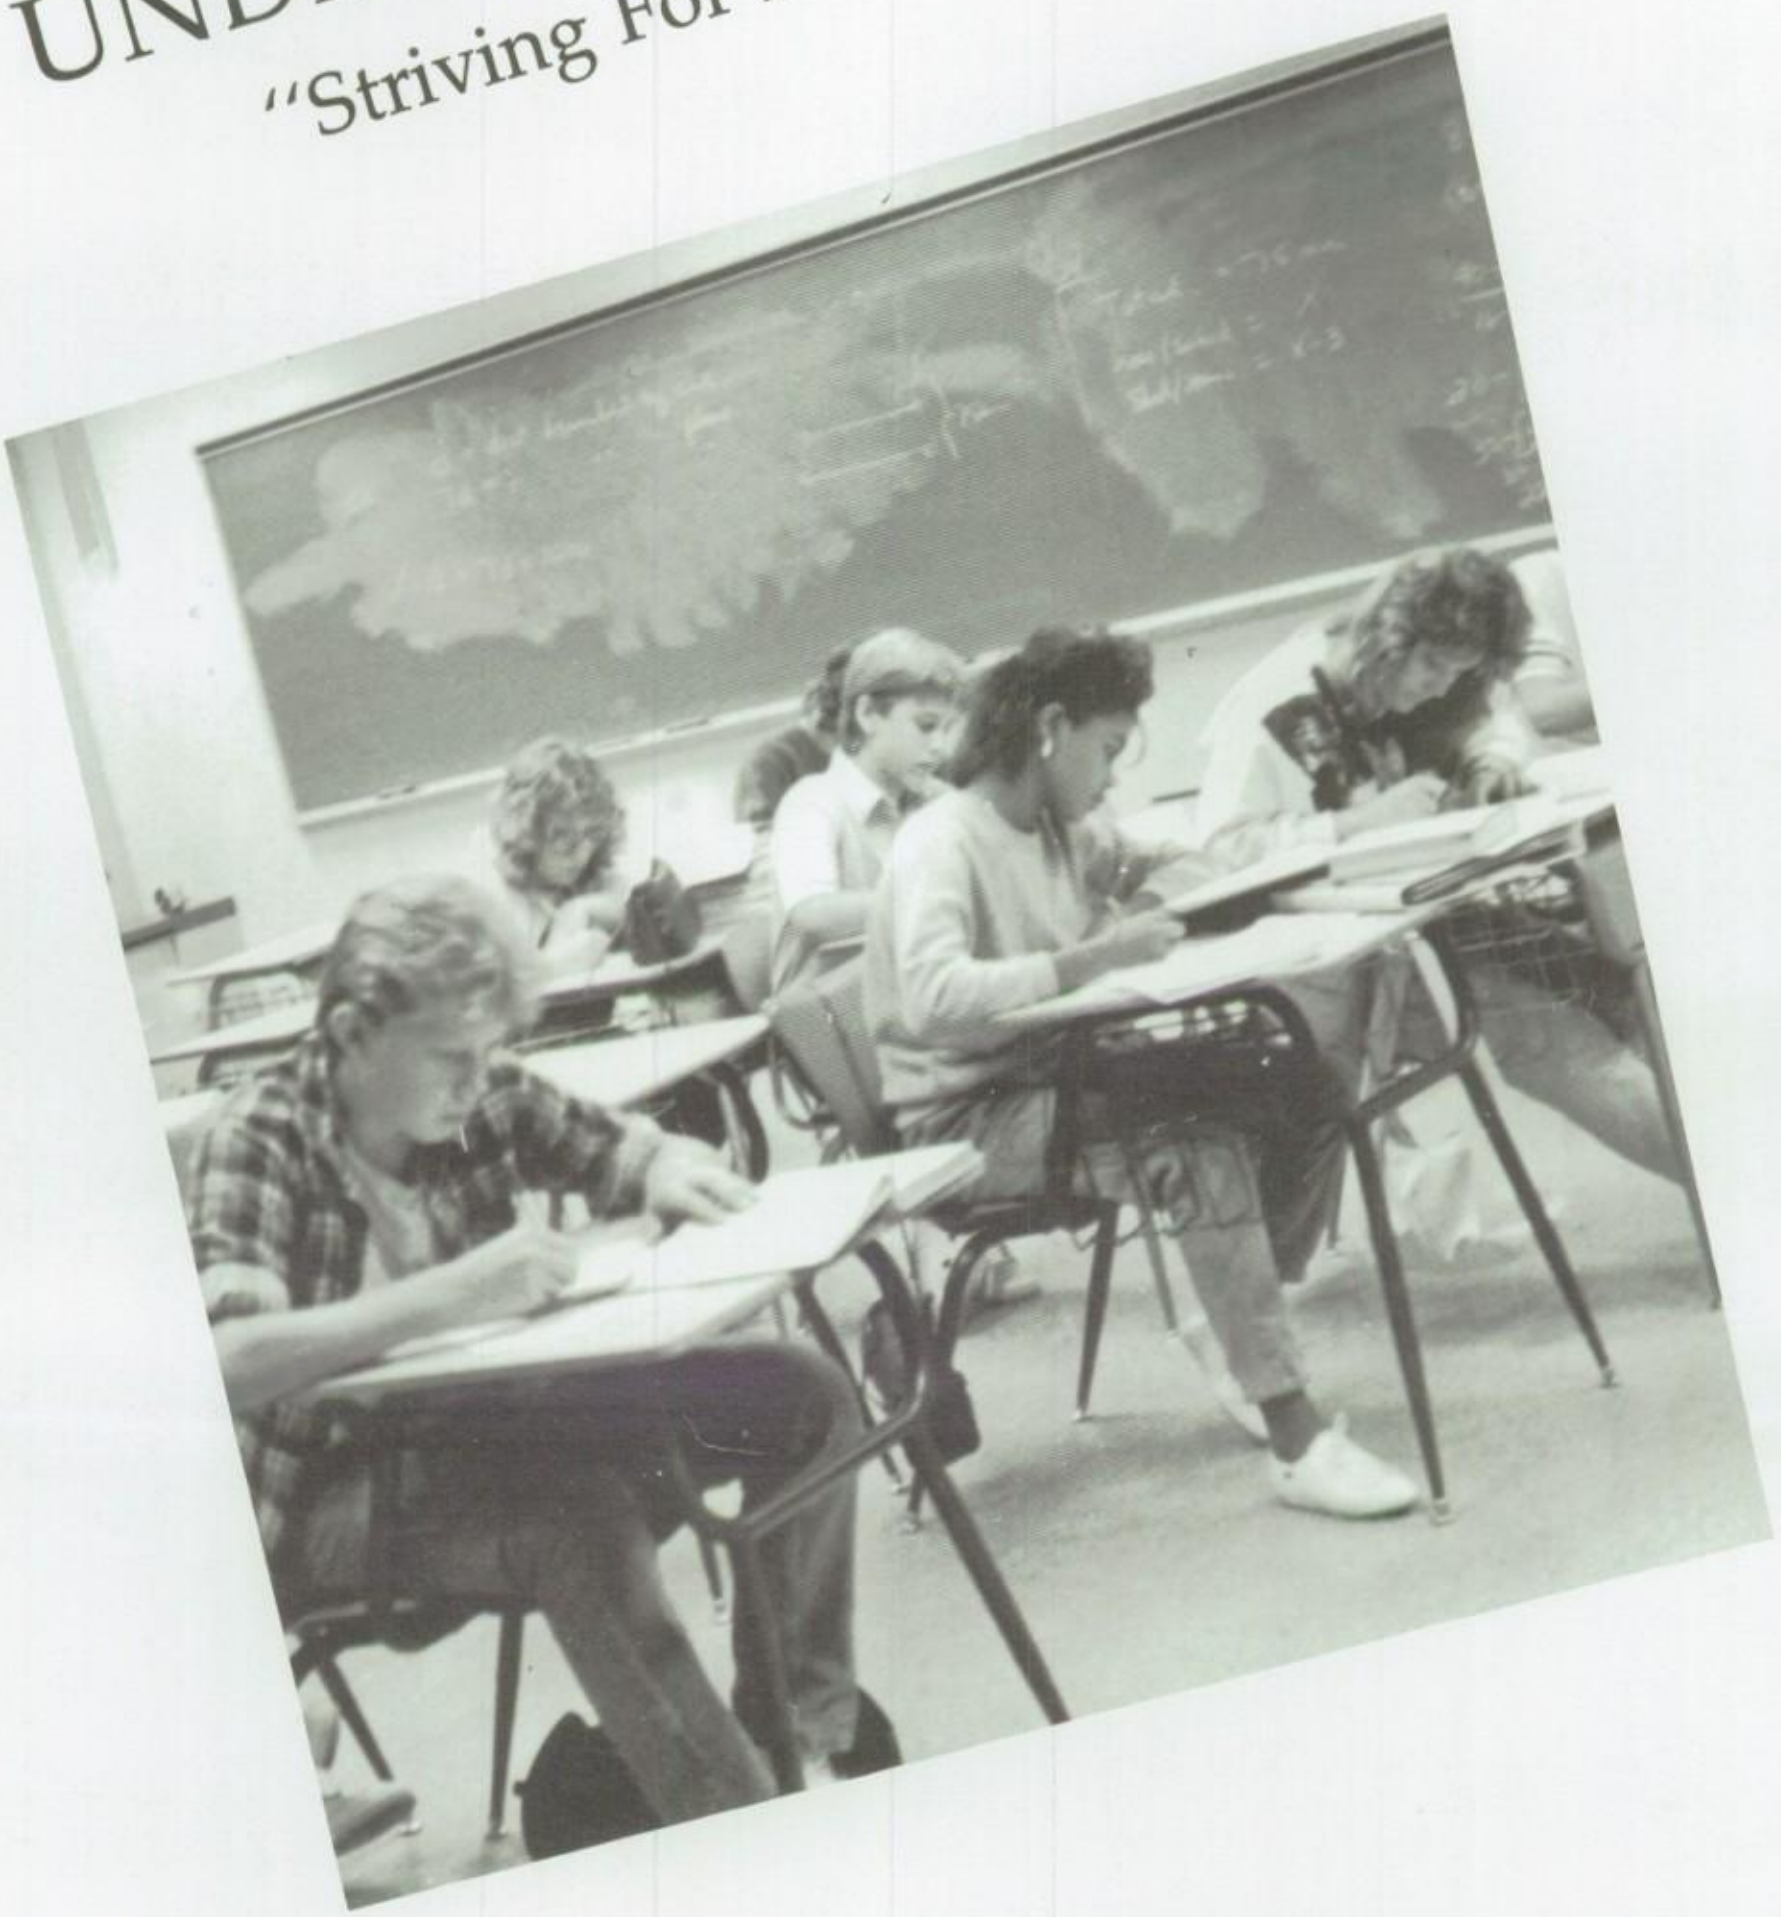
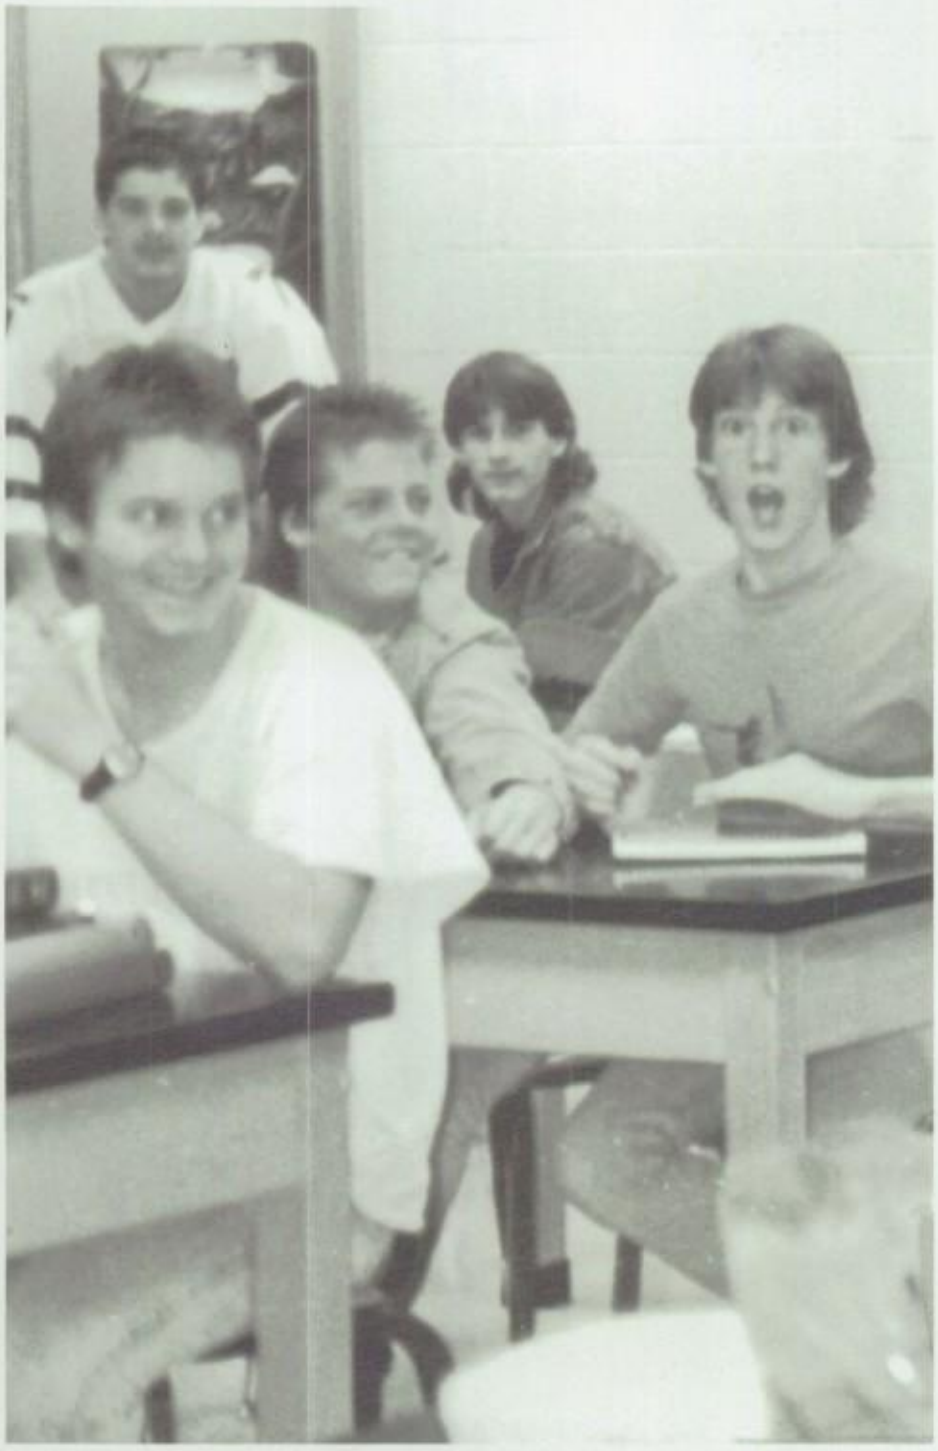
UNDERCLASSMEN:

"Striving For It All"





Since you are the underclassmen of RHS, sometimes you may feel you are "Striving for it all." "All" may be either the SAT or just a math test. However, by this time in your life, you have established the reasoning behind all of this studying. Books do eventually become more of a blessing than a burden. The knowledge that they give you, coupled with your formula for success and the fruits of your labor, will soon come forth in the form of success and happiness. Good luck in your remaining years here and hang in there because "Striving for it All" will make your future bright.

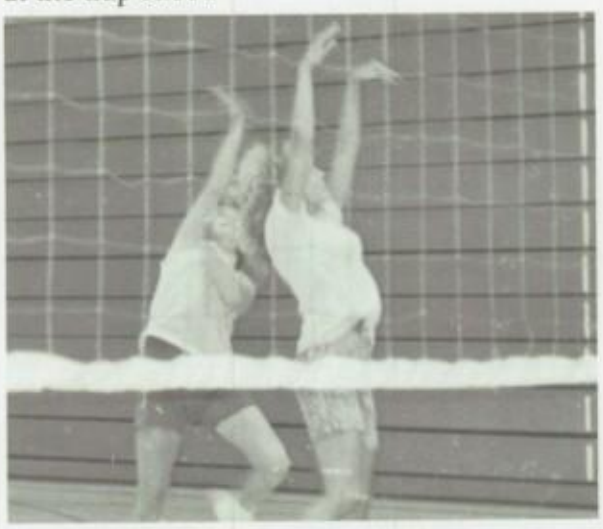
John Greco, the fastest one finger typist in the West.

Kyra Bucich, exactly what do you have on your mind?

The Outdoor Education Club practices their aim at the trap shoot.



What's this a new dance?

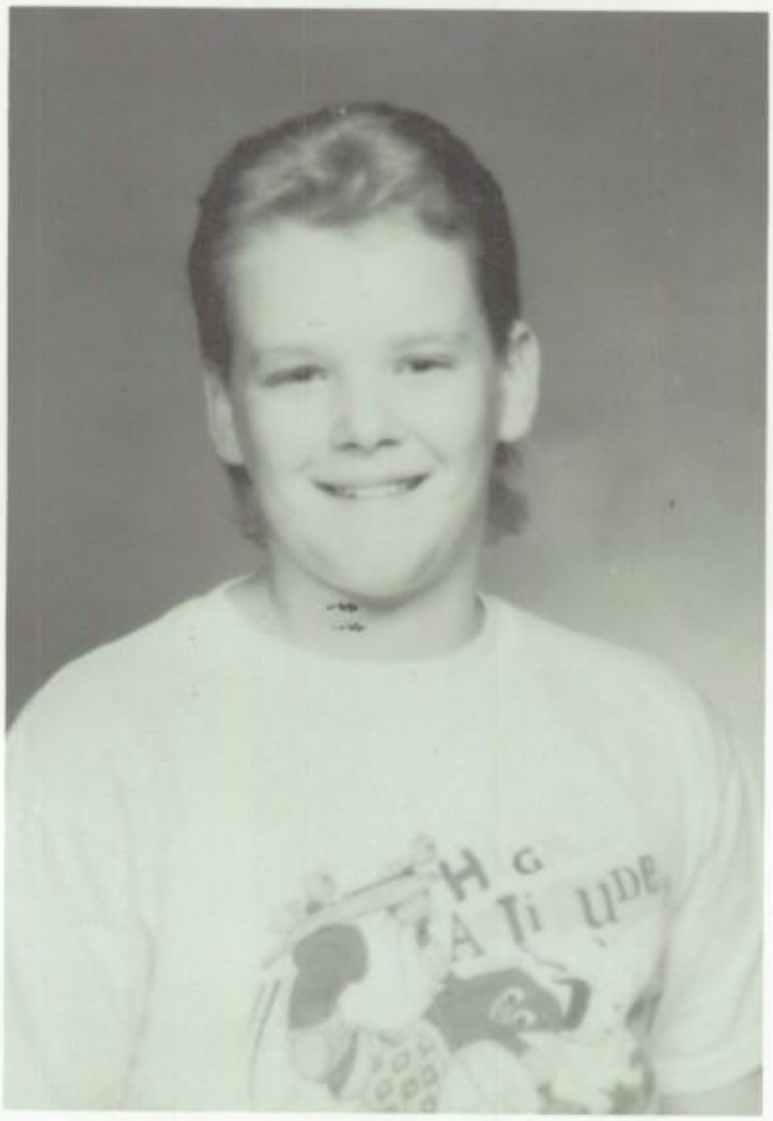
Marcus McCullough and Derry Quattrone ge everyone "psyched" at the pep assembly.

Mr. Bucchianeri salutes the United States wit his class.

IN MEMORY OF KEITH RYAN

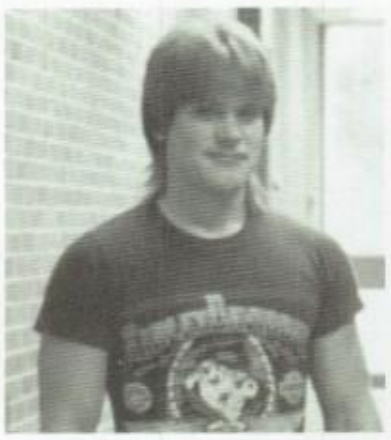


HIGH FLIGHT

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth,
And danced the skies on laughter-silver wings;
Sunward I've climbed and joined the tumblings mirth
Of sun-split not dreamed of — wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting wind along and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.
Up, up the long delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, or even eagle, flew;
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand, and touched the face of God.

Pilot-Officer John Gillespie Magee, Jr. R.C.A.F.

MON VALLEY



"Tommy do you think you're cool?"

Jerry Parks in his famous Hawaiian shirt.

Food service lines up cheerfully to prepare a meal.

Who is this unknown Vo-Tech student?

Vocational technical training at the Mon-Valley Area Vo-tech is one of the educational choices for Ringgold high school students. Vo-tech students get hands-on-training in their chosen fields. Some courses offered medical assisting, computer science, and auto body. After completion of a 3-year course many students go immediately into the work force. Each completed 3-year course is worth 6 credits towards graduation.

Students who excel at Vo-tech can participate in a leadership club called VICA. Also, students who excel are eligible for scholarships and immediate employment with specific companies after high school.

Vocational training is a very unique type of education which proves to be rewarding and beneficial to the student in his future career endeavours.

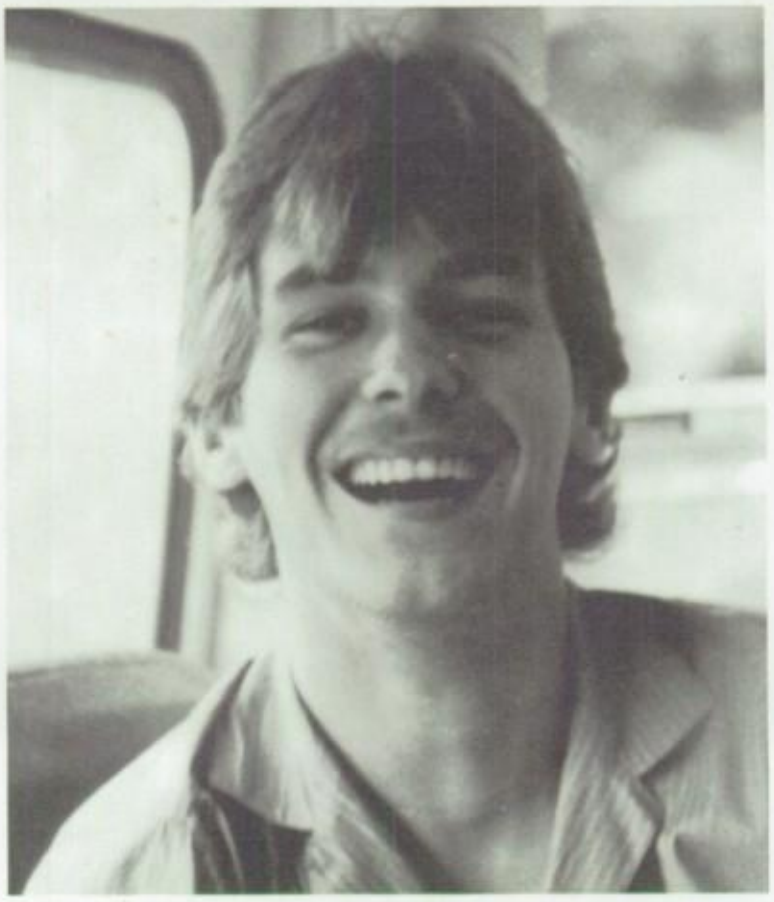
VO-TECH

John Williams is in deep concentration.



"Mark Bilburn, why are you so happy on the Vo-Tech bus?"

Leland demands the attention of the camera.

Chris Koskoski, our country's future leader?

"I'm stunned that you want to take my picture."

Jim Smith, the computer expert.

Dawn Thornley smiles for the camera while Bobbie McCune rushes to put her teeth back in.

Danny Micenko does his mannequin imitation while Charlie Neihaus says "Peck-a-boo."

Just what are you girls up to?

"Why isn't Dave Kubic paying attention?"

Larry Lenzi and Kenny Crownover do all the work while the rest of the class watches.

Ken Amati, are you lonely?

Watch out Dwayne, you're being chased by an unmanned vehicle!

"We've been working on the railroad . . ."

Crystal, why are Maggie and Missy laughing at you?

Kevin Kinder, loves to have his picture taken.

Emily Steiner is caught red-handed.

Quit standing around and get to work!

Pat O'Hern is devoted to his machine.

TO: Administrators, Faculty, Secretarial Staff, Custodians, Cafeteria Personnel

I want to take this time and opportunity to thank each and everyone of you for your support, cooperation, enthusiasm and efforts you have given to the 1987 Ringgold RAM Football Team and Staff. I certainly am very appreciative of the many "little" things many of you do for ALL of us associated with the football team. A lot of you are a great influence on the young men we coach and that certainly enhances the positive self-image we have attempted to build into their daily character.

I also greatly appreciate the cooperation and enthusiasm you have displayed towards the sign contests, door contests, etc. Your cooperation has really created an exciting school spirit and enthusiasm.

Again - Thanks to ALL of you.

May God Love and Bless Each of You....

This season is certainly a reflection of much cooperation from many people...

Sincerely,

Joe Ravasio

The 1987-88 Golf season was a pleasant surprise, everyone who participated did so with a positive attitude and dedicated much of their own time to practice.

This was also the first year that any school in our section had two girls start in every match of the season.

With the only two seniors, Mark Jasko and Don Law, the boys made a vast improvement over last year's record. During the 1987-88 season hard work, enthusiasm, dedication, and team unity were the cornerstones for the Rams' return to basketball respectability. Winning the Charleroi Cougar Booster Club Christmas Tournament was the beginning; back-to-back road victories over Laurel Highlands and Connellsville gave the team momentum. An upset over McKeesport and a spot in the WPIAL play-offs was the conclusion to a great year. With a junior dominated roster of experienced players returning for their third season in 1988-89 and some promising sophomores, the Rams' future looks bright. If they maintain the work habits set by Coach Pergola's first two teams and remember that "They are all in this together" maybe 1988-89 will be "The year of the Ram."

The previous Ringgold record was 11-8 but was outshined by the new one which is 13-10. The team consists of five seniors, but due to the strong bench the team has a future as a section contender.

COACH'S CORNER

Although the record does not show it, our season was very successful. The swimmers set 15 new records and the diver, Joelle Suchy, qualified for WIPAL finals. We are only losing 6 seniors out of a team of 30, so we have a lot of good young swimmers returning next year. It will take some time but if the swimmers continue to work hard and improve their times we should chalk up some wins and be a contender in our section.

This was a struggling season for the Ringgold Icers. With the loss of some valuable seniors this year's squad had to start building for the future of the younger players. COACH'S CORNER

With the loss of six starting seniors from 1986 and only one returning senior in 1987, it appeared to be a rebuilding year. A very good group of juniors and sophomores gave hope to an excellent stepping stone and a possible shot at the section title, but the inexperience of the younger players and inconsistencies on the pitching mound led to a second consecutive fourth place finish in section play. For the 1988 season, the team will return eight starters and with another year's experience, senior pitchers, Wendy Lewis and Amy Gambrasi behind the leadership of senior team captain, Carey Balog, the prospects for a first place finish in section play is within reach.

COACH'S CORNER

The baseball team for 1987 was like watching a child grow into adulthood or watching a garden grow from seed to flower to the finished product. We started with a fresh group of students and a few upperclassmen. The exhibition games did not hold much promise for a successful season, but we watched, we grew and we survived. The league gave us all we could handle, and before we had played our sixth game our record was 1 win and 4 losses. All the outsiders wrote us off at this point as having a losing season. But the players and coaches watched and learned and matured. The remainder of the season was a treat; we finished with 8 wins and 7 losses and made the playoffs for the first time since 1980.

It was a rewarding year for the players and coaches.

THE WORLD IS OURS

"The world is ours," as our parents have always said. Since I was young I can remember my mother saying, "The world is yours," you can do anything you want. Little do we know the true meaning of this kind of advice until some growing takes place and we start to understand the things around us. But, the world is not only mine; it belongs to my neighbor as well, and together we shall build it to be better! The world is ours from this moment on. Friends, and neighbors, forgive thy foes, be one, for THE WORLD IS OURS — and

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER!

ADVERTISEMENTS:

"INVESTING IN IT ALL"

I would like to thank all of the area patrons who came "together" with Ringgold High School to help support this yearbook. We hope that the students and faculty of Ringgold High School recognize these patrons as being exceptional and invest in their businesses. Morever, these patrons have invested far more in Ringgold than can be realized at the present time. Because of these special patrons, in future years, the present students will be able to look back upon this yearbook which holds many special memories of the years they spent "together with their friends" at Ringgold.

Also, we would like to "Thank" all of our classmates who took the time to contact these businesses and bring Ringgold "together" with the community.

There's a lot of world out there and the Navy can take you just about anywhere in it. From familiar places like Honolulu and San Francisco, to places most people only read about or see on T.V. . . . like Hong Kong or Bangkok.

The Navy has more than sixty skill fields we can train you in. It means getting paid while you're learning a job you can get into.

It means getting good fringe benefits, like 30 days' paid vacation each year. And dollars for school after your Navy hitch.
